Mikkelsen Tells Tale of Privation and Suffering—Had to Eat Dog Meat.

Christiania, Norway, July 28.—Captain Erik Mikkelsen, the Danish explorer and the Engineer Foreman, who were on the last of the coast of Greenland by a Norwegian whaling vessel, after having spent more than two years in that region, told the wild animals when they returned home. The two men, Mikkelsen and Iversen had dragged him a hundred miles from the coast of Greenland to the two men had enough ammunition to enable them at all times of the journey to the coast of Greenland. The two men had enough ammunition to enable them at all times of the journey to the coast of Greenland.

We moved along slowly with the sleds. There was much water on the ice and we came along broad crevasses. We reached the edge of the ice time after time after about the last of the dog sleds. The dogs were very good supply but we had to live on for seven days to recover our strength. We could not go on without having eaten the dog's liver.

We had to wait a day or two before the new ice was strong enough to carry us but severe storms broke it up. Plan To Make Dash For North Poles The Plan

Fourteen of the officers and crew of Capt. Amundsen's ship Fram passed through London on a tour of duty on their way to Norway, where the party of five men in the Fram will attempt to reach the North Pole. Amundsen's crew of 19 men, who have returned to civilization without any mishap, are being sent to the Arctic region. Amundsen, who is now in Buenos Aires, is expected to leave for the Arctic region in the Fram, which is now in the hands of the Norwegian government. Amundsen's plan is to reach the North Pole by a route which will involve a dash for the North Pole. KEEP OUT!

"KEEP OUT!" used to hang as a sign on every factory door. The old idea of secrecy in business made it seem a crime to show outsiders processes, materials, and methods of manufacture.

Now the white light of publicity is being let in by those who depend on public favor for business profits and business growth. The "keep out" sign is disappearing from factory doors and the "welcome" sign is taking its place.

Candor and honesty form the backbone of modern advertising. Men tell the truth, and it pays. Modern advertising is more and more on the confidence and good will of the buyer.

To-day, eyes are too sharp and intelligence too keen to make deceit possible. Absolute frankness in advertising is the straight road to confidence. The public demands the light; it abhors and fears darkness.

To-day, many cunning factories, packing houses, bakeries, and public places welcome visitors, concealing nothing.

The public may overlook, but does not forgive, a lie or an abuse of its confidence. The public regards with suspicion those who attempt to serve it in secrecy and silence. The public is repelled by juggled facts or befogging words. The public rewards with its favor and money those who tell it the truth. It walks and shops where

Edmonton Allstars Win From Calgary Eleven

The Local Team Played a Better Game but Were Not in as Good Condition as Their Opponents—Score Was Two to One—Large Crowd Was Present.

In a strenuously contested game the Edmonton All-Stars defeated the Calgary All-Stars by a score of 2 to 1 in a football game played at the local stadium last night. The game was probably the best exhibition of soccer that has ever been seen in this city. The local eleven played a better game than the visiting eleven, but were not in as good condition as their opponents. The game was played in a very hot wind, and the players were very tired at the end of the game.

The Edmonton forwards did not appear to work together very well, the line being broken before it had a chance to close in on the Calgary attack. The Calgary attack was very strong and was well organized and worked like a machine.

GOOD CRICKET GAME BETWEEN SWIFT AND E. C.

Edmonton Cricket Club Defeated the Swift-Canadian Eleven.

Edmonton Cricket Club Team Starts Tour Next Week.

In glorious cricket weather this afternoon the Edmonton Cricket Club team, returning in a decisive victory for the side, met the Swift-Canadian eleven at the local stadium.

The Edmonton team, which has been playing a very good game, was led by the captain, who was very successful in his batting and bowling.

The Swift-Canadian team, which was also very good, was led by their captain, who was also very successful in his batting and bowling.

The game was played in a very hot wind, and the players were very tired at the end of the game. The game was probably the best exhibition of cricket that has ever been seen in this city.
